Training Class Waiver

I understand that attendance at a training class is not without risks to me or my dog. These risks exist because of the normal behaviors attributable to dogs, such as biting each other and humans, and due to the transmissible nature of infectious diseases.

I agree to follow the directions of the trainer while attending class and at all times when present on the clinic property. I agree to keep my dog under control at all times, and not allow dog/dog interactions unless otherwise directed by the trainer in the course of the socialization process.

I certify that my dog is healthy and has completed all the preventative care required prior to its first day of class. Due to the nature of infectious diseases, even though these preventatives have been required for all dogs attending class, I understand that there is no guarantee against an infected pet coming in contact with my dog and the possible subsequent transmission of disease or parasitic infection. If my dog should become infected with a contagious disease or parasite, I will hold Milwood Animal Clinic, its employees and representatives free of any responsibility and/or liability.

I hereby waive and release Milwood Animal Clinic, its ownership, staff and representatives from any and all liability of any nature for injury or damage which I or my dog may suffer, including but not limited to any damage resulting from the action or inaction of myself or my dog.

All family members are encouraged to attend classes. However, I understand that children under the age of 12 years must be supervised by an adult other than myself.

I am at least 18 years of age.

An enrollment fee is due at registration prior to the first class. This fee is non-refundable after the 1st class my dog is scheduled to attend. A fee of $25 is applicable to any check returned unpaid.
